MOVE HITS UNION HEADS LIKE BOLT FROM CLEAR SKY

Were Not Aware Bituminous Committee Was in City—Difficulties Arise Over Checkoff, Closed Shop, and Other Methods—Charges and Counter Charges Fly.

Atlantic City, N. J., July 28.—In session here today to draw up recommendations for the United Coal Commission covering the soft coal industry, the bituminous operators' special committee suspended business to come to the aid of the anthracite operators with a broadside against the checkoff, the closed shop and the United Mine Workers of America and its methods which drew the return fire of the union's big guns.

INDIANA JOINS IN FIGHT UPON PITTSBURGH PLUS

Strong Fight Against Steel Pricing Plan Proposed.

CHICAGO, July 28.—An executive committee which includes the attorneys general of three states was appointed today at a meeting of representatives of Iowa, Wisconsin, Minnesota, and Illinois to plan and conduct a combined campaign against the Pittsburgh price plan for steel. The committee is composed of B. S. Baker, attorney general of Wisconsin, secretary general of Wisconsin, secretary general of Iowa, Clifford S. Hill, attorney general of Minnesota, and Robert Scholes, Peoria lawyer and state representative.

The meeting had just adjourned when a telegram was received from Governor MacCray of Indiana, announcing that that state would join in the attack on the practice and that a representative had been appointed to represent Indiana in the combined effort.

"The discussion today was largely concerning the effect of the practice upon the farmers. An Illinois farmer sells his wheat in Pittsburgh, said John T. Denver, state senator and member of the Illinois Commission on Pittsburgh Plus. "Does he get the price in Pittsburgh for his wheat, plus the freight rate from Illinois to Pittsburgh? No, he gets an Illinois price for his wheat. He sells his wheat for the Pittsburgh price minus the freight from Illinois to Pittsburgh."

Practice Inconsistent
"But when the farmer buys steel in Chicago he pays the Pittsburgh price for the steel, plus the freight rate from Pittsburgh to Chicago. I don't see how the federal trade commission can ever approve of the steel practice of Pittsburgh plus on these so-called economic grounds if these four states will present a real case against the steel system."

Burton F. Peek, vice-president of Deere & Co., Moline, Ill., who also is a member of the commission, presented some figures which he said showed the increased cost of farm machinery, which he said is caused by Pittsburgh plus.

FIRE DESTROYS CITY OF FINDLAY

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., July 28.—The business district of the little town of Findlay, Shelby county, was almost wholly destroyed by fire today with a loss of $9,600. Another fire a year ago destroyed many buildings and the blaze today leaves the village virtually crippled so far as business is concerned.

Dr. Waters was a professional visitor from Murrayville yesterday.

FOUR PERSONS! BADLY HURT IN AIRPLANE FALL

Drops Fifty Feet When Rudder Controls Jammed.

(By The Associated Press)
ROCKFORD, Ill., July 28.—Four passengers were seriously injured, one probably fatally and two received painful hurts here late this afternoon, when a passenger carrying airplane piloted by Tony Yackey of Chicago, former air-mail pilot and war aviator crashed to the ground from a height of 50 feet. Yackey left town by train before he could be found by authorities. He was not seriously injured although cut about the face and bruised.

According to the best information obtainable, Yackey discovered the rudder controls jammed after leaving the ground.

Shuts Off Motor
The big Breguet plane was sweeping in a circle toward a crowd of several hundred persons on the ground. To prevent diving into the crowd Yackey shut off the motor and standing up, threw his arms about the passengers to steady them against the inevitable crash, which he did not expect to be with great force to the ground.

The wing however caught on a telegraph pole throwing the occupants out and into the wreckage on the plane as it crumpled. The injured:

William H. Brown, 35, superintendent Bird Ring company, fractured skull, probably will die.

William Brown, Jr., 12, his son, fractured arm, internal hurts.

Clyde Morgan, 37, head injured, bruised.

Seth Morgan, 29, his brother, Ottumwa, Iowa, Milton Johnson, 21, cut and bruised, not seriously.

GERMANY BLAMING FRANCE FOR HER PRESENT TROUBLES

Ebert - Cuno Government Pleads for Unity and Forbearance.

Berlin, July 28.—In a fervent appeal to the German people the Ebert-Cuno government pleads for national unity, maintenance of law and order, forbearance with the prevailing economic difficulties and for nationwide emulation of the "spirit of patriotic sacrifice and devotion manifested by the population of the Ruhr and Rhineland in the face of overwhelming persecutions and privations."

The proclamation, drafted at a full session of the cabinet today at which President Ebert was present sets forth the genesis of the economic collapse which now is reflected acutely in the worthlessness of the nation's currency, deranged business conditions and disorganization of the food supply, all of which says the statement "is directly traceable to the eruption in the Ruhr Basin which proved a moral blow to the nation's economic and financial organization and which is primarily responsible for the monstrous drop in the value of the country's currency."

France's Interference
"To this day," the statement adds, "France wilfully is interfering with every effort to achieve a solution of the reparations problem which would concede to Germany a chance to live. Until such time as the reparations are definitely adjusted the German people must and will sustain themselves by virtue of their own powers and resources."

It then enumerates the measures adopted and the preparations for taxation, currency stabilization and other laws calculated to meet the exigencies, and make them conform to currency depreciation and legislative state guarding necessary food supplies.

TURKISH-AMERICAN AGREEMENT SIGNED

(By The Associated Press)
LOUSANNE, July 28.—(By The Associated Press)—The American and Turkish experts reached an agreement tonight whereby the United States receives the "most favored nation" treatment concerning the freedom of the straits for merchant men and warships.

The United States without signing the straits convention will receive all privileges.

FORMER SECRETARY OF AGRICULTURE TALKS ON GRAIN PRICES.

DES MOINES, Iowa, July 28.—(By A. P.)—General effect of drop in wheat prices to below a dollar a bushel has been exaggerated in the minds of many people, both as regards its effect upon farmers generally and on business other than farming, E. T. Meredith, secretary of agriculture during President Wilson's administration, declared in a statement to the Associated Press.

"Those that grow wheat exclusively or nearly so, and consequently are dependent upon the return from their wheat crop almost entirely for their income," he said, "have had their incomes cut by the recent decline in wheat prices so far as they are concerned is a matter of interest and importance to every other interest of the nation, labor and business being concerned as well as the farmer. Certainly steps should be taken immediately to prevent such a situation being forced upon a group of persons who are producing one of our staple products."

Entire Wheat Income
"The entire income American farmers receive from wheat, however, represents but 10 per cent of the total income of the farmers as a group. Then that commodity which represents 10 per cent of the total income is only 10 per cent lower in price than it was a year ago. It appears then, that so far as the price of wheat alone is concerned, the present price decline affects the total income of our farmers by only one per cent."

"The present price of corn is as much higher than the price for wheat that a year ago as wheat is a year ago, and inasmuch as there are more than three times as many bushels of corn produced as there are of wheat, this very increase in the price of corn greatly exceeds the shrink in wheat. Whether corn will maintain its high price I do not know, but if it does, those who are both corn and wheat growers, which is a large number, are at least, in no worse situation than they were a year ago, and many of them are in a much better situation."

Compared to Dairy
"It is interesting to note that a 10 per cent drop in wheat 10 (per cent a bushel) is only equal to three and one-quarter per cent of the wealth produced each year by our dairy cows and that the American hen produces more new wealth than the total wheat crop alone."

"I firmly believe that a practical method can be devised and put into operation whereby wheat growers and other farmers can produce their crops with an assurance of receiving at least a certain price per unit of their production as is the situation with those who manufacture certain products, so that those who cannot produce at that price may know it in advance rather than afterward."

"In other words, the law of supply and demand which means supply, productive possibilities and consumptive demand shall be interpreted to the farmer in advance, rather than obliging them to operate in the dark, as is now the case. It is a pressing demand of national importance."

BROOKHART SAYS HE IS READY FOR ALL STANDPATTERS

Would Remove Them From Every Big Committee In Congress.

(By The Associated Press)
ELDON, Iowa, July 28.—(By A. P.)—"I am ready to fight and fight to the finish to clean every standpatter off of every big committee in congress and I don't care what party label he wears," Senator Smith W. Brookhart of Iowa, shouted to a grandstand full of members of the Iowa Farmers' Union, their wives and their children, assembled on the fair grounds here for a state picnic of that order.

Making the most of lulls in the whirl of low flying airplanes, squawking balloons and the shouts of the cold drink peddlers, Senator Brookhart managed to make heard a recital of his experiences and observations during his recent tour of 17 European countries. While the noise and clamor may have caused the crowd to miss a few statistics there was no indication of any lagging enthusiasm for Brookhart among the more than 5,000 people assembled from southeastern Iowa to hear him.

Has Familiar Ring
Some of his address had the familiar ring of his primary and November campaign comments on the railroads and "General reserve bank but the travel features took the senator held up as the coming competition with the American farmer by the virtue of his Agriculture comeback, he claimed to have seen through unsmoked glasses and to have heard thru the lips of unprejudiced interpreters.

"I did not need an interpreter to see the 2,000 miles of flourishing crops I saw in Russia, nor to look to American professors and librarians at several of the agricultural colleges I visited in that country," he said, "when the unforgotten press of some czarist who has been kicked out of Russia told me of how the soviet government there tries to camouflage the country for the eyes of United States senators, tell them that I admitted seeing some agricultural colleges in which there were only 40 students and some countries where such colleges were not even started."

SHOOTS OPERATOR THEN KILLS SELF

Edwardsville, Ill., July 28.—Miss Viola Miller, pretty 17-year-old telephone operator, was shot to death in the neighborhood of her home here tonight by Peter Jedliska, 32 years old, a former admiral, who, after fleeing from the scene, killed himself with the same revolver.

U. S. ATTORNEY WATCHING OIL MEN CLOSELY

Shutting Down May be Considered Restriction of Trade.

(By The Associated Press)
Chicago, July 28.—By the A. P.—An investigation to determine whether an agreement yesterday of oil men meeting here to shut down twenty five of the larger oil refineries of the mid-Continent field during August in a combination "restraint of trade in violation of the Sherman anti-trust act was begun today by Edwin A. Olson, United States attorney. Announcement of the investigation was followed by a statement from J. M. Carson, member of the executive committee of the American oil men's association that any fair investigation would be welcomed. In agreeing to close down the refineries, the oil men had declared that the action was necessary in order to stabilize the market. Closing down the refineries would remove about 112,000 barrels of gasoline daily from the market.

Investigation Ordered
Edwin L. Weiss, assistant United States attorney was ordered by Mr. Olson to conduct the investigation. Special attention is to be directed to the question of whether or not the move of the refineries is intended to increase the price of gasoline. Mr. Weiss stated that he would confer immediately with J. P. Rooney, division superintendent of the bureau of investigation of the department of justice.

"If we find that the refineries attempt to persuade or coerce other refineries not represented in the meeting Friday to follow the action they voted on it will constitute a case for our immediate attention under the Sherman anti-trust law inasmuch as gasoline and oil are commodities that must be shipped interstate," Mr. Weiss said. "The law provides that there shall be no conspiracy to restrain interstate commerce," he said.

Investigation Asked
"We count a fair investigation of our losses for the last six months," Mr. Carson said when informed of the government's action. "The producers too will welcome it, for they have been losing money for the last six months. All we ask would be an impartial inquiry. We do not consider that the recent United States senate investigation was a fair one."

The leading refineries who adopted the shutdown decision have called a general meeting of all mid-Continent refineries to be held in Kansas City, Mo., July 31, to complete their plans.

A committee of jobbers, producers and refiners as a cost fact-finding commission was appointed today.

SICKNESS CAUSES HARDING TO MISS SEEING THOUSANDS

President and Several of Party Suffer Temporary Illness—Unable to Greet Crowds in Several Cities Through Which Train Passes—President a Busy Man.

(By The Associated Press)
On board President Harding's Special Train, July 28.—Plans for President Harding's visit to Yosemite National Park arranged for tomorrow and Monday were cancelled tonight and his special train was directed to proceed to San Francisco, arriving there about 9 o'clock Sunday morning, so as to give the chief executive two whole days of rest before he resumes his speaking tour.

Secretary Christian said the cancellation of President Harding's proposed trip to Yosemite Valley should not be interpreted to mean that the president's condition was in the least alarming, but was entirely precautionary and taken as a means of avoiding the heat of the San Joaquin Valley and of permitting Mr. Harding to get needed rest.

Brigadier General Sawyer, the president's personal physician, in a statement to newspapermen tonight coincidental with the announcement of the change in plans, said:

"The president's condition is somewhat improved; the bowel trouble has disappeared entirely and his temperature this evening is considerably lower than earlier in the day."

The trip into the Yosemite was abandoned after Brigadier General Sawyer had advised complete rest for the chief executive for the next day or so in order that he might recover from the attack of pneumonia poisoning from which he suffered last night and today. The day of complete rest, although it resulted in disappointment to thousands in a dozen or so Oregon cities thru which the presidential train passed was held by the two physicians to have been of great benefit to Mr. Harding who had been slightly indisposed since he ate something which did not agree with him aboard the Transport Henderson just before reaching Vancouver, B. C.

Secretary of Interior Work, himself a physician, was summoned by the president to his compartment and instructed to explain to people who had gathered at the railroad stations the reasons for his inability to appear. This was done by the Secretary at Roseburg and later at Grant's Pass.

Secretary Work said at Grant's Pass, "during our last day at a number of us were attacked by a temporary indisposition not serious, but due to an item of food put up in a can. I will not say what the item of food was. The indisposition was temporary."

President Overtook
All have recovered almost completely and the president has about recovered. Had he been able yesterday to take care of himself he would have been in his usual vigorous health this morning, but the reception at Seattle was so cordial and so overwhelming that the hours consumed in a parade entailed a great physical hardship. He was two hours in the sun bareheaded acknowledging the plaudits and afterwards spoke to more than one hundred thousand people at three different times.

"The president was overtaken," "Since leaving Washington," Dr. Work continued, "the president has not spared himself. He has made many addresses from the platform in his dressing gown. If we came to a town before there was time for him to dress he appeared and he would remain up late at night to greet and speak to people who came out to meet him. I wish to express the regret which the president feels at not being able to speak to you and to give you the assurance which we all feel that his ailment is merely a temporary one such as we all went thru and we are sure that he will promptly be restored to his normal splendid health."

Conference Prevented
The doctor's orders even prevented a conference which Senators McNary and Stanford, of Oregon had requested with the president. The two senators boarded the presidential train at Eugene early this morning and Senator McNary had brought with him a number of telegrams and petitions from agricultural organizations, which he as chairman of the senate agriculture appropriations sub-committee had been asked to place before Mr. Harding. Most of these communications urged that congress be called in special session to enact additional farm relief legislation notably the Goodwin price stabilization bill and measures to bring about reductions in freight rates on agricultural products. The two Oregon senators conferred with Secretary Hoover and were the guests of Mrs. Harding at luncheon.

Mrs. Harding thruout the day endeavored as much as possible to make the place of her husband appearing on the rear platform at the various brief stops.

HEADQUARTERS OF I. W. W. IS BADLY WRECKED

Furniture Smashed—Records Thrown in Street.

(By The Associated Press)
New York, July 28.—Their headquarters raided and practically wrecked, their red organization flag torn down and burned, and unable to get any action today out of the Hoboken police, officials of the Marine Transport Workers division of the Industrial Workers of the World tonight declared they were still carrying on their strike of longshoremen begun last Tuesday. The Hoboken headquarters were raided around the noon hour today by a band of 50 men who tossed I. W. W. literature and records into the street, smashed the furniture and carried off the flag which the I. W. W. had refused to lower yesterday despite the protests of indignant citizens who pointed out that no American flag was displayed.

Police Not Advised
An hour after the raid Hoboken police headquarters professed to know nothing of the disturbance. Later it was stated at headquarters that members of the I. W. W. had called a policeman on post nearby, but that when he arrived the trouble was over and he had found no one to arrest. John Gunlach, secretary of the Hoboken branch of the I. W. W., visited headquarters seeking warrants but was advised to come back Monday as there was no judge on hand to issue them.

Meanwhile New York headquarters of the I. W. W., wired Governor Selzer, accusing officials of the United States Shipping Board with authorizing the raid and demanding investigation and punishment of those responsible.

The raid it was alleged, was carried out by members of the International Longshoremen's association who were declared to have been engaged by shipping board officials.

COL. CLIFFORD RESUMES PRACTICE OF LAW

Former Assistant Secretary of the Treasury Resumes Partnership With E. F. Colladay—Both Former Cass County Men.

Washington, July 28.—Renewing a schoolboy friendship after a gap of thirty-five years, Colonel Edward Clifford, of Chicago, former Assistant Secretary of the Treasury, and Edward F. Colladay, Republican National Committeeman for the District of Columbia, have established a partnership for the practice of law in Washington. The other member of the firm, which is to be Colladay, Clifford & Pettus, is B. B. Pettus, of Georgia.

Colonel Clifford, who as Assistant Secretary of the Treasury, was in charge of the customs service during the many adjustments in Federal procedure necessitated by the new Tariff Law becoming effective last September resigned recently to look after his private affairs. He was prevailed upon, however, by his schoolboy friend, Mr. Colladay, to remain in Washington for the practice of law.

The reunion of Colonel Clifford and Mr. Colladay was brought about by Fred W. Upham, treasurer of the Republican National Committee, and A. D. Lasker, former chairman of the Shipping Board, soon after the then Assistant Secretary of the Treasury took office in May, 1921. These gentlemen introduced Mr. Colladay to Colonel Clifford at the Treasury.

Secretary Clifford acknowledged the introduction by informing Mr. Colladay that he (Colladay) had been born in the little town of Virginia in Cass county, Illinois; had lived on Main street and gone to school in the little brick schoolhouse in the west end of the town; had moved to Hutchinson, Kansas, where he had grown up, and then moved to Washington where Colliday had been practicing law for about twenty-five years.

To Mr. Colladay's astonished demands for enlightenment at this recital of his own career, Colonel Clifford explained that he also was born in the same town, went to the same school and shot many a game of marbles with the future Republican National Committeeman whose career he had since followed through the newspapers. Colladay then recognized the Secretary as his old schoolmate.

Confident that he can manage his Chicago interests from Washington, which he believes is the most delightful place in the world to live, Colonel Clifford, upon his withdrawal from his Treasury post, accepted the invitation of Mr. Colladay to cement their boyhood friendship in a partnership to practice law in Washington.

WELFARE WORKERS TO HOLD CONVENTION

State Conference Will Be Held In Bloomington In October.

The Illinois conference of public welfare is to meet this year in Bloomington from October 25 to 28, and a number of Jacksonville people will be in attendance, including representatives of the state institutions. Rev. M. L. Pontius is chairman of the committee on conference extension.

Years ago the organization was known as the state conference of charities and corrections, but more recently the name was changed to indicate more clearly the purpose and scope of the organization.

Last year the conference was held in East St. Louis and each succeeding year seems to give increased interest to the organization and its work. Mrs. E. M. Wagenseller of Decatur is the president of the conference and other officers are: Rev. Moses E. Kiley, Mrs. Ruth Berolzheimer, L. H. Becherer, Chicago, vice presidents; Col. Frank D. Whipp, Springfield, Ill., executive secretary; J. B. Johnson, Rock Island, Ill., and Walter S. Reynolds, East St. Louis, members of the executive committee for three years; Mrs. Robert Wallis, Peoria, Ill., chairman of committee on children; Charles E. Lauder, Monmouth, Ill., chairman of committee on corrections; Dr. William A. Evans, Chicago, chairman committee on health; Miss Irene Kavin, Chicago, chairman committee on family; A. L. Bowen, Springfield, Ill., chairman committee on community development; Dr. Ralph Truitt, Chicago, chairman committee on mental hygiene; Rev. M. L. Pontius, Jacksonville, Ill., chairman committee on conference extension.

Supported By State
The state conference is officially a part of the machinery of the state of Illinois for caring for its unfortunate. All the regular expenses of the annual conference are met by appropriations made by the legislature at each of its biennial sessions. At the coming convention in Bloomington, there is a committee on entertainment, which is expected to furnish musical or other entertaining features for each session before the business talks begin. Other local committees will provide rooms for holding sessions of the conference and other details for the convenience and comfort of the delegates.

Sections of Conference
The constitution of the organization provides as follows:

"The sections of the conference shall be (1) health and physically handicapped, (2) mental hygiene (3) corrections, (4) family, (5) children, (6) community development, (7) conference extension, and such other sections as the executive committee may create from time to time.

"Each of the section committees of the conference shall be responsible for the preparation and representation of program, subject to the approval of the executive committee.

"All sections of the conference shall hold regular meetings annually in connection with the annual meeting of the conference."

The Crawford Lumber Co. will soon offer for sale two residence on West North street, which are now nearing completion. The residences are located on the north side of North street between Pine and Caldwell and are in every way modern.

YOUNG GIRL FOUND IN PIG PEN WHERE KEPT SINCE CHILD

Growth Stunted and Can Only Answer Simple Questions.

(By The Associated Press)
EL PASO, Texas, July 28.—Reared in a pig sty for ten years, the malice of a vengeful stepmother, a 13 year old girl was found asleep in the pen, located near the home of her parents, here today by Detective Ivy Fenley and Ira Cline.

The child, stunted by her experience to scarcely the stature of a three year old could answer only simple questions.

She said that she had always lived in the little pen as far back as she can remember, and that her food was always given to her thru the bars of the pen.

Neighbors told the officers that her food consisted principally of scraps. Some of them have been taking milk to her pen. During the interrogation the child sat with folded hands facing the detective as if in an attitude of prayer. The stepmother said the child was put in the pen only to play.

County Probation Officer, Mrs. Emma Webster took charge of the child and is hunting a home for her. She is investigating the case further.

LOOKING FOR PLAN TO PROMOTE WORLD PERMANENT PEACE

Secretary Weeks Writes to Bok's Peace Award.

(By The Associated Press)
NEW YORK, July 28.—The possibility of a war which might involve even the United States exists in the present unsettled condition of the world, Secretary of War Weeks declared in a letter to the American Peace Award, created by Edward Bok.

In the letter, made public today, the secretary expressed the hope that the award committee would be able to present a plan for cooperation in promoting world peace. He pointed out, however, that the war department was urging sufficient preparedness for defense.

Former Assistant Secretary of the Navy Franklin D. Roosevelt wrote that it was "sadly easy" to talk about cooperation in promoting peace, and that the United States must keep first with their nations to eliminate the things which disturb peace.

The plan to be accepted finally, he thought must have sufficient machinery to handle all international disputes. "A systematic course of treatment, extending thru the years and aided by the combined efforts of all nations," he added, "would prove the only remedy for the sickness of the world."

LIFE JOURNEY ENDS FOR VETERAN CITIZEN

James D. Erixon Passed Away at Age of Ninety—Funeral Will Be Held at Ebenezer.

The venerable James Dillon Erixon passed away Saturday afternoon at his home, 904 West Lafayette avenue. The deceased had been in a weakened condition for a long period of months and his death was not unexpected.

Mr. Erixon was a son of John and Rachel Nichols Erixon, and was born in Pittsburgh, Pa., Nov. 8, 1832, and was therefore nearly ninety one years of age when the final summons came.

As a child six months of age he removed with his parents to Monroe county, Ohio, and there grew to manhood. March 5, 1857, he was united in marriage with Miss Nancy Woodrow Patton, and within a few weeks after their marriage they removed to their farm home of 300 acres in Brown county, Indiana. That remained their home until November, 1869, when they came to Illinois and settled on a farm north of Jacksonville in the Arcadia neighborhood. There Mr. Erixon carried on successful farming operations for a long period of years, until February, 1909 when he sold his farm and made his home with his daughter, Mrs. S. N. Bridgman, his wife having passed away in September, 1897. In earlier life Mr. Erixon be-

BERLIN NEWSPAPER MAN EMULATES HIS AMERICAN BROTHER
Picks Future Wife from Entrants in Beauty Contest

BERLIN, July 28.—Tyrolean belles who entered newspaper contests 20 or more years ago did not always land distinguished husbands, as European marriages in the "better circles" were not contracted along such democratic lines in those days. Yet such was the fortune that came to Frau Therese Scherl, widow of August Scherl, Berlin's most suc-cessful newspaper publisher, who died the other day.
A comely maid, the daughter of a Tyrolean village schoolmaster, a photograph of Therese attracted Scherl as he was mustering con-stantists for a beauty competition he was conducting in a circula-tion campaign for the Local An-zeiger and his various other pub-lications.
Scherl promptly eliminated Therese from the competition with Bavarians, Pomeranians, Saxons, and other German frau-leins, and posthaste despatched his trusted managing editor to the girl's Tyrolean home with instructions, plus a large amount of cash, to inform her parents that their daughter was exactly the type of a wife he had been searching for. The modest but dignified schoolmaster and his wife naturally were flabbergasted over the unceremonious manner in which a total stranger had as-sumed to bid for their daughter's hand thru an equally unknown go-between.

Learned American Ways
But Scherl's emissary, who by the way had learned the newspa-per game in the United States many years before, proved a skillful negotiator. He succeeded in overcoming the parents early scruples and such other embar-rassing details as the question of their daughter's dowry, and with an outright option on Therese he hurried back to Berlin, while the schoolmaster and his wife and the blushing Therese scanned the Tyrolean horizon for signs of the coming of the girl's unknown suitor.
Scherl went to the Tyrolean village, won the approval of the parents and the love of Therese, and the engagement of the couple was arranged without much de-lay. Scherl died two years ago.
His daughter, however, in her Tyrolean home, the other day, Friends and business associates of the couple declare that the union which was contracted under such romantic circumstances was an extremely happy one, and that the Tyrolean schoolmaster's daugh-ter proved a valuable intellectual aid to Scherl, whose life was wholly draped up in developing his gigantic publishing projects.
Many Stories Revealed
The demise of Fran Scherl has revived a score of stories about her publisher-husband, who achieved fame and fortune thru American methods, which en-abled him to gather in thousands of subscribers and countless col-umns of classified advertising and also to develop his domestic and foreign news services. So-cially Scherl lived the life of a recluse. Only his chief execu-tives and aides came into per-sonal touch with him. He was a comparative stranger to a ma-jority of his employees.
It was this circumstance that once almost cost a young reporter his job. Scherl, so the story goes, once confessed to a confidante that in his boyhood days he robbed a bird nest, an act which he regretted all his life, and for which he vowed to do penance. His penance consisted in his fill-ing a huge cage with birds of all varieties and transporting them into the Tiergarten, where he would give the birds freedom.

This was his annual sacrificial of-fering for his boyhood offense.
According to his office late one day when he had made his annual pilgrimage to the Tiergarten, Scherl's eye fell upon a double-banked news item in the Local Anzeiger to this effect:
"In the morning a comical look-ing individual, who gave evidence of being demented, was seen driv-ing in a fashionable equipage through the Tiergarten. On his knees rested a huge bird cage containing several dozens of frightened birds. Suddenly the carriage halted, the strange man opened the cage and released the birds and then disappeared. His identity is not known, although one of the caretakers in the Tier-garten said he was sure it was the same individual who came there last year with a big cage of all kinds of birds."
There was a momentary panic in the editorial room of the Local Anzeiger, but the reporter was absolved of blame for the story he had brought in.

COUNTY CATTLE TEST - AID IS REGULATED
Prohibited from Appropriat-ing Money to Carry on Work of Testing for Tuberculosis.

SPRINGFIELD, —(By the A. P.)—Illinois counties are prohib-ited by the present laws from ap-propriating money to carry on the work of testing cattle for tuber-culosis, according to an opinion rendered several county officials by Attorney General Edward J. Brundage.
Some 25 counties are affected by the opinion, for these counties had already made arrangements to pay for testing. The board of supervisors of Effingham county, for instance, had signed a contract with Dr. W. B. Van Cleave to conduct tests in that county with a view of eradicating tuberculosis from the cattle.
The same opinion was sent to Lester H. Martin of McLean county, who had asked for a ruling before signing a contract with a vet-erinarian.
The attorney general's opinion holds that tuberculosis testing of cattle has been placed in the con-trol of the state department of agriculture and that the owner of the cattle must pay for the test unless his entire herd is tested annually or semi-annually.
Attorney's Opinion.
Mr. Brundage quoted the fol-lowing section of the law as ap-plicable:
"The department of agriculture shall have the power to make tests for the purpose of ascertain-ing whether or not any domestic animals are afflicted with tuber-culosis. No such test shall be made, however, except upon re-quest, or with the consent of the owner of such cattle, and the ex-pense of such test shall be borne by the owner unless said owner shall make application to have his entire herd tested annually or semi-annually; in which case, the testing shall be done free of charge under the direction of the department of agriculture of the United States."
"This act," the attorney gen-eral said, "contains no provision which authorizes county boards to make an appropriation to pay the expense of such test."
He cited a supreme court case holding that county boards can exercise only such powers as are expressly given them by statute or such as arise by necessary im-plication.
C. P. Henderson was a Satur-day caller from Litchberry.

AMERICANS ABROAD AS OBSERVED BY A FRENCH HOTEL MAN
Other Interesting News from Land Across the Pond

PARIS, July 28.—The French feeling toward the tourists who come to their country each sum-mer is typified by the expression of L'Oeuvre, one of the brightest and widest read Paris dailies. The hotel-keepers and sleep-keepers are represented as showing only moderate enthusiasm over the yearly invasion. One restau-rateur declared:
"The Americans come to dine just to see what a hotel res-taurant is like," says L'Oeuvre. "They order something off the grill and some pastry, and wash it down with mineral wa-ter. It's a waste of time to be in-sistently spreading a wine card be-fore them. They never budge un-less they have ladies with them. The Swedes and English are freer than the Americans in ordering wines. Before the war all the leading restaurants had a number of rich Americans who came each year and spent without counting. That was something, but not as good as the Russians or even the Germans."
Nowadays they have business men, who become May and July, and summer tourists who stay at the first-class hotels, but who take their meals at fixed-price restaurants for five or six francs. They pass their evenings seated outside cafes, consuming a coffee and milk. Nor do the shop-keepers reap a harvest. With the exception of art objects and jewels, which interest a small number of really rich collectors, our visitors hesitate to buy being always afraid they are paying too dear. They all visit Germany where they find imitation Paris-ian products which seem due to the exchange situation, infinitely more advantageous.
Foreign visitors, the articles concludes, come to France some-times from sympathy, but always for economy.

A startling theory has been propounded to account for the number of airplanes belonging to the Paris-Prague service which have fallen in German territory.
It is said and believed by many officers of the French air service in the Rhineland and the Ruhr that the Germans have discovered a means of stopping the action of the magnetic of airplanes in flight. The Germans are credited with first having found a way in Berlin to stop automobiles within a specified area and the French believe they have applied the method to airplanes.
The pilots and passengers forced to land are allowed to go free but the plane and the freight it may be carrying are confiscated.
Since January 1, Germany has regained the liberty of the air, so far as civil aviation is concerned, under the Versailles treaty, but they are unable to prevent foreign military planes from flying over German territory.
And since the occupation of the Ruhr began they have refused to supply any weather reports which are so necessary to successful operation of the air services. Recently the Germans served notice that no airplanes would be allowed to cross their territory to at-tend the aviation meeting at Gothenburg, Sweden, so that France has decided to be repre-sented by a squadron of navy water planes.
The Franco-Roumanian com-mercial company, which runs the Paris-Prague service, has lost 11 machines which were forced to land, mostly in Bavaria. The company says 450 machines have been in use since February. Every case of forced landing has been investigated and the reason found to be generally mechanical therefore, they are not inclined to believe the magnetic interference theory. The chief secretary of state for aeronautics also doubts the theory but is unwilling to declare it groundless, as he is aware the Germans are doing re-search work along such lines.

NEW SCHOOL OF INDUSTRIAL ART
CHICAGO, July 29. (By A. P.)—A community of America's most distinguished craftsmen will be gathered by the Chicago Art Institute, it is announced, when funds now being raised for the new school of industrial arts are completely subscribed.
Supported by the leading man-ufacturers of fine furniture, pets and other artistic products, directors of the Art Institute expect the new school to be the largest and most distinguished school of its kind in the country. The greater part of the $200,000 needed already has been obtained, they say.
Instruction is to be given in the designing and manufacture of glassware, pottery, ironwork, jew-elry, weaving and beautiful type-graphy.
"At the time of the war," ac-cording to the Institute, "the skilled craftsmen who enlisted left America in a predicament. This country never has had a troupe of skilled workmen in the finer crafts and it is the idea of the supporters of the new indus-trial art school to supply Ameri-can factories with domestically trained men."

THEATER OWNERS IN FRANCE ARE WORRIED

PARIS.—(By the A. P.)—The invasion of the French theatre by foreigners is causing French crit-ics to "throw a cry of alarm," to use one of their favorite phrases. Seven foreigners, headed by M. De Max, a Rumanian, who played with Bernhardi in America, are declared to figure too important-ly in the National Theatre, the comedie Francaise, to suit the lo-vers of tradition.
"Suppose," says the pessimists, "these foreigners continue to in-crease. They might dominate the theatre and France might see the strange sight of the French sub-ordinate in their own national play house, which is supported by the government."
One critic demands that the foreigners be cleared out. Others suggest that the comedie Francaise regulations be revived to pre-vent any possible outside control. Foreigners are becoming in-creasingly prominent on the Paris billboards. The opera constantly houses artists with names that are not.

A FEW DOLLARS BUYS CASTLE ON THE RHINE
Famous Schloss of Drach-enfels Bought by Frank-fort Business Man for $7,500.

BERLIN.—(By the Associated Press.)—Castles on the Rhine are going at bargain rates. The Schloss of Drachenfels, which is supposed to have been the scene where Siegfried killed the Dragon has just been sold at auction to satisfy a mortgage. It brought 1,500,000 marks, or about $7,500. The purchaser was a Frankfurt business man. Half the price he paid for the castle will go to defray the expense of the sale.
The weather beaten castle, which stands at an altitude of 1665 feet in the Siebengebirge, or group of seven mountains on the east shore of the Rhine between Coblenz and Bonn, was frequently visited by the American soldiers when they were stationed at Coblenz. It is one of the many historic Schlosses along the Rhine, dating back to the time of Aoid, the first archbishop of Cologne.

NEW SCHOOL OF INDUSTRIAL ART
CHICAGO, July 29. (By A. P.)—A community of America's most distinguished craftsmen will be gathered by the Chicago Art Institute, it is announced, when funds now being raised for the new school of industrial arts are completely subscribed.
Supported by the leading man-ufacturers of fine furniture, pets and other artistic products, directors of the Art Institute expect the new school to be the largest and most distinguished school of its kind in the country. The greater part of the $200,000 needed already has been obtained, they say.
Instruction is to be given in the designing and manufacture of glassware, pottery, ironwork, jew-elry, weaving and beautiful type-graphy.
"At the time of the war," ac-cording to the Institute, "the skilled craftsmen who enlisted left America in a predicament. This country never has had a troupe of skilled workmen in the finer crafts and it is the idea of the supporters of the new indus-trial art school to supply Ameri-can factories with domestically trained men."

FUNERALS

Services were held at Island Grove yesterday morning at 9 o'clock for the late Mrs. Eliza O'Bannon Miller, who passed away in Berkeley, California recently. The remains were brought to this city from the western state arriving Friday evening and were taken to the home of Mrs. E. W. Brown, 1042 West State street, a niece of the deceased.

During the services two solos were rendered by Mrs. William Barr Brown of this city, who was accompanied by Miss Mary Smith. The floral tributes were cared for by Miss Margaret Brown, Ann Smith, Elizabeth Smith, Mayne Price, and Harriett Smith. The bearers were: E. W. Brown, Dr. J. D. Smith, Lloyd W. Brown, J. D. Smith, Dr. McMillan, and James Corrigan. The last two named are residents of New Berlin.

Burial was in Wood Wreath cemetery.

Fredlander.
The funeral of the late Miss Minnie Fredlander was held Saturday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at the family home northwest of the city. A large company of neighbors and friends assembled for the services, which were in charge of Rev. W. H. Marbach, pastor of State Street Presbyterian church.

Mrs. Carl E. Robinson, with Miss Ruth Bradley as accompanist, sang "Sometime We'll Understand," and then the minister read various passages of scripture and offered prayer.

Mr. Marbach used the phrase, "A Life of Service" as referring to Miss Fredlander and said that no printed page or no word of mouth can adequately describe a life of service. "I am sure," he said, "that we mourn today a very important member of this household, whose chief delight was in cheerfully given service for others."

"We are familiar with the Bible phrase, 'She hath done what she could,' and certainly there is much in these words if applied to any man or woman. For what greater accomplishment could there be in life than is indicated in those words, 'She hath done what she could.' And we know that after a life of useful service there comes rest from labor. To those who are left to mourn there comes the comforting assurance that there is One with us who travels on every road of affliction and to those who mourn there is peace from the knowledge of the immortal hope of reunion. God leads the way, not always along easy paths."

In closing the minister quoted these verses along with others: In pastures green? Not always; sometimes He Who knoweth best, in kindness leadeth me In weary ways where heavy shadows be.

Out of the sunshine, warm and soft and bright; Out of the sunshine into darkest night; I oft would faint with sorrow and afflict; Only for this—I know He holds my hand; my hand; So whether in the green or desert land, I trust, although I may not understand.

Mrs. Robinson sang another hymn and the house service closed with a brief prayer. From the residence the cortege moved to Diamond Grove cemetery, where Miss Fredlander was laid to rest in a grave made beautiful with flowers. The flowers were cared for by Mrs. C. H. Ames, Mrs. Minnie Ketter, Miss Elizabeth Dunavan and Miss Carrie Rataichak.

The bearers were Newton Dunavan, Fred B. Henderson, C. H. Ames, Charles J. Rataichak, A. W. Becker and J. W. Walton.

Pierson.
Impressive funeral rites for the late Mrs. J. K. C. Pierson were conducted at the residence, 357 E. State street, at 3 o'clock Friday afternoon. Rev. W. H. Marbach of State Street Presbyterian church, of which Mrs. Pierson was an active member, officiated. Diamond Grove cemetery was the place of burial.

The minister made appropriate mention to Mrs. Pierson's usefulness to her community, and to her high character and work. In the Jacksonville Woman's club the decedent was always interested in all movements, and she successfully handled the duties of president of this large organization. She was a member of several other civic organizations, and at all times could be depended upon for leadership and cooperation of able nature. As a member of the board of education of the city, Mrs. Pierson helped Jacksonville in many ways.

The community knew Mrs. Pierson as one of its most valuable citizens. She was ever interested in betterments of Jacksonville and her people. Her friendship and service will always remain in the memory of Jacksonville people.

There was a large display of floral tributes at the funeral, sent by many individuals and several organizations with which the decedent was identified. These were in care of Mrs. D. E. Kennedy, Mrs. A. B. Williamson, Dennis Sekram and Mrs. G. W. Bradley.

The pallbearers were John B. Siebert, A. B. Williamson, J. F. Shreve, Dr. A. L. Adams, Edward Dunlap and C. H. Russell.

Barrows.
The funeral of Miss Mary R.

Barrows was held at 10 o'clock Saturday morning at the Reynolds Chapel. The brief service was conducted by Dr. R. O. Post, assisted by Rev. P. J. Rinehart. There were two organ numbers, given by Miss Ruth Irving.

Burial was in Jacksonville cemetery and the bearers were W. D. McCormick, Irvin Stevenson, Frank Irving, Capt. W. A. Kirby, L. S. Doane and Arthur D. Fairbank.

BAYLIS MAY BECOME WABASH TERMINAL

There is the prospect that the little town of Baylis in Pike county may take on new life and prosperity in the course of another year or so. The Wabash railroad is contemplating building a terminal there that would cost a million and a half dollars. If this extensive program of betterments is carried out it will be from the fact that the Wabash has made a 99 year lease with the M. K. & T. for a 70 mile strip of road between Hannibal and Missouri.

If this lease is made the road thus acquired will become part of the Springfield division of the Wabash and a new terminal made necessary. The interstate commerce commission recently gave its approval and permission for the lease and the Missouri public service commission also issued a favorable order.

These things indicate that the M. K. & T. leasing program is very likely to happen with the subsequent development at Baylis.

HUSBAND DEAD, WIFE HURT IN COLLISION

BELOIT, Wis., July 28.—Sidney D. Derbyshire, 32 years old, of LaGrange, Ill., an electrician, is dead and his wife with both legs severed at the knees will probably die as a result of collision between a north bound Rockford and Beloit interurban car and his automobile two miles south of Beloit tonight. The tangled wreckage of the automobile burst into flames immediately after the crash and bystanders pulled the LaGrange couple and Mrs. Derbyshire's mother, Mrs. George L. Brown, of Beloit from the fire.

Derbyshire died on the way to the hospital. Mrs. Brown suffered scalp lacerations. The Derbyshires were in Beloit on a vacation. The victim drove his car across the track in front of the passenger interurban evidently believing that the train intended to stop for the switch south of the road.

That Jacksonville Will Have a Memorial of Which the City May Well be Proud, is Now a Certainty—
Sales have continued at a remarkable rate, which is assuring to us that the knowledge is general that there will be no extra space to offer after construction begins. Our sales have all been to the individual for his own needs and none to any with a speculative view, though of buildings of this character, such as have Chicago and St. Louis, space has trebled and quadrupled in value over a period of from five to ten years, and as our company is owning no space, we see no reason why it should not prove a profitable investment to local owners.
The law of percentage always operates, and the time of need for such draws one day nearer each twenty-four hours. The cost is moderate, and as measured to ground burial is even less by comparison, and the relief one feels at the knowledge that they are prepared, will more than recompense for the amount invested.

LATEST NEWS OF THE SPORTING WORLD

Chick Evans Takes Title Eighth Time

CLEVELAND, O., July 28.—Chick Evans today won the West ern Amateur championship for the eighth time by defeating Hamilton Gardner of Buffalo, six up and four to play at the Mayfield Country club. To make his eighth victory the greatest number in any golf classic ever won by anyone he waded thru a fine field, including the national champion Jess Sweetser, who pushed Evans to better than par golf as did Gardner most of today.

Gardner played excellent golf, exciting the expressed admiration of Evans, who played better than par in the morning round and as three under for the 13 holes he finished after noon, the champion just steadily lightened up on his younger opponent until with a birdie two on the short 21st, he became dormie five.

Chick Studies Approach.
With the high hill on the 15th hole to climb, Chick studied his approach and he would have defied a sharp shooter to send a ball straighter for the hole by virtue of one, only halving four feet from the hole and stopped within 30 inches of the pin, thus applying the last drop of the lethal dose to Gardner's vanishing hopes, for he was in a trap and after two tries picked up.

Not only did Evans play well under par, but he laid his younger opponent four strokes in the 32 holes, winning the 30th hole by virtue of one, only halving the 26th despite another which Gardner cut around for a three from eight feet away and conceding the other two, which might have put Gardner further back in the race.

Evans and Gardner both drove into the creek on the 415 yard fifth hole and Evans had to drop back. He went in again from a faulty lie and conceded the hole, for he could not have done better than six or seven, while Gardner was pretty sure a five.

At the long 11th hole, Gardner again was never ordered to play to the green as Evans got in a bunker and failed to get out on his third, conceding the hole when only half way to the green. On the 25th hole, Evans' drive was on the edge of a trap 230 yards from the green and he chose to slice a brassie to the green from the left side. Standing well behind his ball he made the shot beautifully but it went five feet too far and was in a deep sand trap. He failed to recover in two attempts, so he conceded. The last hole played.

PEKIN RAINBOWS WILL BE IN JACKSONVILLE

Manager Smith yesterday received a letter from Manager Schroeder of the Pekin Rainbows stating that they will sure be here for the afternoon game, stating that they have won their last six games and adding "We are sure hitting the old apple." He presents the following list of players: Smith and Callahan, c; Vaughn and Sweeney, p; Schroeder, 1b; Petri, 2b; White, 3b; Bennett, ss; Vedel, lf; Oltman, cf; Overby, rf; Dolan, sub.

On account of injuries to Christopher and Kohloff and the release of Henderson, several new faces will appear in the Indiana lineup which Smith announces as follows: Massinkoff, cf; Wheeler, 1b; Rosner, 2b; Boyd, ss; DeFrates, 3b; Wright, lf; Emert, rf; Clark, c; Fanning, p.

The local baseball season at South Side park is now about one-half gone, and for some unaccountable reason the attendance does not improve, in fact it seems to be growing slightly less in spite of the fact that the local team are meeting some of the best semi-pro teams in this part of the state and getting away with it in splendid shape. In a city of this size no reason can be assigned for not having an enormous crowd on every game as the boys are putting up a real scrap in every game and as soon as any player shows that he does not measure up, he is thrown into the discard and an effort is immediately made to strengthen the weak point. The remark has often been made this season by strangers visiting at South Side park that there are many minor league games played between fairly high-salaried players that do not surpass the games that may be witnessed on the local lot.

SMITH AND BENTON IN HURLER'S BATTLE

CINCINNATI, O., July 28.—George Smith won a tight pitcher's battle from Rube Benton today and the Brooklyn's evened the four game series with the Reds forcing the home team down to third place in the league race. The Reds outbatted the Robins but three double plays hurt their chances of scoring and they were helpless in the pinches, the visitors scored in the first on Benton's only pass, a single by Griffith and a sacrifice fly by Fournier. The Reds tied it after two were out in the fifth in the Pinelli single and Hargrave's triple. Brooklyn won out in the tenth on hits by Taylor and French and an out at first. Both teams fielded brilliantly.

MUST ACCEPT OR FORFEIT EMBLEM

MILWAUKEE, Wis., July 28.—Pinkie Mitchell, junior welterweight champion boxer today was offered $5,000 with a privilege of one third of the gate receipts to meet Basil Gagliano before a New Orleans club some time in August in a 15 round contest to a referee's decision in defense of his title.

Judge A. J. Hedding, father of Wisconsin's boxing law and chairman of the 140 pound commission which holds the $1,000 guarantee bond in connection with the junior welter weight championship belt, has given Mitchell until noon August 1 to either show a better offer than that made by a New Orleans club or forfeit the championship emblem.

YANKEES WILL MEET ARENZVILLE BOYS

The local Yankees will journey to Arenzville today where they will meet the fast Arenzville Grays. A very hard game is expected as the last game proved to be a good game with the score standing 10 to 9 in favor of the Grays at the end of the 11th inning.

The Yankees are going good and confident that they will be victorious today. "Pete" Bur arenzville while Lee Devlin will do the heavy work for the Yankees. Devlin pitched an excellent game at Naples last Sunday and no doubt he will give the Arenzville batters a great deal of trouble. The Yankees line-up will probably be: Sellers 3b; Wright ss; Baptiste, lf; Barnes 2b; Goodwill, cf; Blesse or Wagner, rf; Devlin, p; Pulasky 1b; McNamara c.

Dempsey Will Meet Firpo in September

NEW YORK, July 28. (By A. P.)—The next heavyweight boxing bout is on the calendar, Champion Jack Dempsey will meet Luis Angel Firpo of the Argentine at the Polo Grounds on Friday, September 14th.

Promoter Tex Rickard announced the place and date today. Early next week he promised to make known the purse and the percentage each boxer would receive.

Under the laws of New York state the match will be a 15-round decision fight. According to figures issued today from Rickard's office in Madison Square Garden the latest heavyweight fray will have fewer spectators than massed on Boyle's Thirty Acres in Jersey for the Dempsey-Carpenter and Firpo-Willard bouts. The promoter announced that when new stands around the ring will be erected on the Giants home diamond 80,000 persons would be able to witness the battle. Rickard estimated that more than 90,000 persons watched the Dempsey-Carpenter go and more than 100,000 the recent fray in which the former drug clerk in Buenos Aires knocked out the former champion from Kansas. Tickets will cost less than those for any other previous heavyweight championship bout of recent years. They will range from $3 to $25, about half the price of those for the Dempsey-Carpenter bout. But since that famous battle, Jersey has passed a law fixing $15 as the maximum price—which may have been no small factor in bringing the present bout across the Hudson.

Choice Expected
Rickard's choice of the Polo Grounds was not unexpected. Firpo wished to fight in his native city and at first the promoter indicated that his ambition might be fulfilled. But doubts as to the financial prospects awaiting a bout in the Argentine caused him to sidetrack Firpo's desire.

The choice then fluctuated between Boyle's Thirty Acres and the stadium lying under the shadow of Coogan's Bluff. It kept on fluctuating until Rickard closed negotiations with Charles A. Stoneham, half owner of the Giants and today announced.

Both men have been up against Willard. It took Dempsey only three rounds to finish him. It took Firpo eight. Dempsey who was expected to polish off Gibbons early in their match found that the lighter man was able to go the distance.

His knockout power was clinched in his massive right fist. Both men have been up against Willard. It took Dempsey only three rounds to finish him. It took Firpo eight. Dempsey who was expected to polish off Gibbons early in their match found that the lighter man was able to go the distance.

BETTING AT GRAND CIRCUIT ENJOINED

COLUMBUS, O., July 28.—Bet-ting at the Grand Circuit races here, which were postponed today because of a "wet track" was temporarily enjoined by court order on application of David A. Edgar who officials of the local driving park allege acted on behalf of the Ku Klux Klan. Edgar refused either to deny or affirm his connection with the organization.

Another development in connection with the local race meet was the arrest of three men charged with "doping" favorites in order to make money on "long shots." The three men were charged with illegal possession of narcotics. The cases were set for hearing next Wednesday. Despite the restraining order driving park officials announced that the two weeks fall race meeting would be held September 17 to 28 as scheduled.

Attorneys for the driving park association told the court that the injunction was applied for because the park has been refused to the Ku Klux Klan for holding a ceremonial, counsel for Edgar did not deny the statement. Hearing to make the injunction permanent will not likely come before the court until fall. Police said that the three held on the dope charge were accused of giving poison sugar to Single G., the horse fell and received a bad cut. The men are alleged to have "doped" other horses at race meets.

CHINA'S HOPE RESTS IN CHRISTIAN MEN

CHICAGO.—(By the A. P.)—China's only hope is in the leadership of such men as compose the Christian Council, a group of learned men and women which is half composed of Chinese, according to a letter received here from the Rev. James M. Yard, D. D., executive secretary for China for the Eastern Asia movement of the Methodist Episcopal church.

"While the burning subject of news and interest to the people was concerned with the bandits in Shantung, I sat in a conference with one hundred Christian leaders, in whom rests the hope of China by their unity, power and ability," the letter said. "They are men and women of brains and character and include David Yui, chairman of the National committee of the Y. M. C. A. and Dr. T. L. Law of Peking University.

"We have proved by various tests that there are as many outstanding native leaders among the 400,000 Christians as there are among the 400,000,000 non-Christians, but this council is better evidence of the success of Christianity than any volume of statistics ever compiled. This council consists of men and women from all parts of China, united and consecrated to the task of bringing Christ to the nation."

AURORA TO HAVE FAIR IN AUGUST

AURORA, July 28. (By A. P.)—Scenes depicting the fall of Fort Dearborn suggested by Dr. C. J. Grandt founder of "Flag Day," will be held here the first two nights of the Central States Fair, August 17 to 25.

Six episodes in the past and present of northern Illinois are to be woven into a pageant.

The entertainment opens with the establishment of the Indian village under Black Partridge on the shores of the Fox River. The next historical moment is the fall of Fort Dearborn in which the whites and the friendly Miami Indians are betrayed and massacred by hostile Indians. Then follows the pioneer wedding of the postmaster of Fort Dearborn with Theresa Lafrancoise, daughter of a Pottawatomie chief.

A scene showing the gathering of peoples at the Chicago World's Fair also will be presented.

Two other scenes will show in allegory that the influence of famous names still affects the present, and the pageant will close with a picture of nations of the world being changed in the great American melting pot.

Great American men and women to be represented in the pageant will be Abraham Lincoln, Marquette, Joliet, LaSalle, Chief Shabbona, Black Hawk, General George Rogers Clark, Stephen A. Douglas, General John A. Logan, Eugene Field, Theodore Thomas, Cyrus McCormick, representing agriculture and George M. Pullman, representing transportation. Among the great Illinois women will be Frances Willard, Jane Addams, Mrs. John A. Logan and Rhude Powell of Aurora, an internationally known woman violinist.

WILBUR GLENN VOLIVA SPEAKS ON HARMONY

ZION, Ill.—(By the Associated Press.)—Wilbur Glenn Voliva, whose recent litigation with some members of his flock resulted in him being convicted and fined one cent for libel, told a company of Chicago and North Shore business men in a speech how to obtain harmony. The suggestions were made at a dinner celebrating the opening of Zion's new printing and publishing house.

Voliva also told how a business man could become a model husband.

"The first thing in running a business is to select the right men and the next is to know how to treat them," he said. "You win them by strength of character. It must be remembered, too, that organizers are like poets—born and not made. The cool and collected man is the one who succeeds."

"The second quality in success is to be a good husband. Husbands, don't sacrifice your home life altogether for your business life. Many a man has broken his wife's heart by neglecting her for business. After dinner go and sit down in the parlor with your wife. Have some lemonade and popcorn with her, and smile."

"A man is the handiwork of his wife. He is exactly what she makes of him. When a man comes home at night after the business cares of the day, he wants to come into a home full of sunshine."

"I wouldn't give five cents for a million hustlers. It is the calm man who wins success."

MILLIONS OF BOOKS PUBLISHED IN RUSSIA

Bucharest.—Figures received here summarizing the activities of the publishing business in Russia which is purely an enterprise of the Soviet state, indicate that a great effort is being made to convince the Russian people of the correctness of Bolshevik political, social and economic theories.

The Soviet publishing house issued from its presses in Moscow and put into circulation throughout Russia during the last 12 months no less than 14,500,000 volumes covering the fields of economics, politics, history and even fiction.

Aside from the obvious propaganda tendencies of the volumes on political and economic subjects, the Soviet historians have sought to show how the world has suffered because of its hostility to Bolshevik doctrines, and in many of the fiction volumes the endeavor has been to prove that opposition to Soviet doctrines has warned, limited or distorted individual lives.

Wayne B. Wheeler Visits
London's Drinking
Places

LONDON, July 29.—(By the A. P.)—As America becomes drier and drier, merry old England gets wetter and wetter, in the view of Wayne B. Wheeler, general counsel for the Anti-Saloon League of America, who is looking over London for the first time in 71 years.

Mr. Wheeler went out to visit some of London's "pubs" the other night and took his wife along. He was amazed, he said, "to see the number of children parked in front of the saloons while their mothers were inside at the bar drinking beer and stout, some of them intoxicated."

In some of the pubs he found more women drinking than men. Contrasting this wet nation with America under prohibition, Mr. Wheeler declared he saw more drunken men and women the first day he arrived in London than he had for a year in the United States. It was more than 17 years ago, he said.

Asked by American newspaper correspondents whether he would attempt to influence the British legislators in favor of prohibition or send money here to help the advocates of aridity, Mr. Wheeler replied in the negative. That would be resented, he thought, as an attempt by foreigners to cram prohibition down England's throat. However, he said, he would offer data, speeches and literature showing the results of prohibition in America to anybody desiring them.

Mr. Wheeler is leaving for Scotland next week to deliver a series of speeches in favor of prohibition, preliminary to his departure for Denmark to attend the anti-saloon Congress in Copenhagen.

British motorists are riding around wreathed in smiles these days because the era of cheap petrol has arrived, the recent reductions in the cost of gasoline having brought the price of that commodity practically to the pre-war level. That isn't all, however. An additional cause for joy is all however. An additional excuse for joy is found in the fact that a pint of petrol gives more mileage in 1923 than it did in 1914, owing to the greater development of carburation, engine details, and ignition apparatus.

Motor cars generally are being built lighter for the same carrying capacity, and the owners have to use less lubricating oil for the machinery. The oil also is obtainable for less money than in 1914 and, with tires about one-third their pre-war prices, it now is possible for small salaried men to enjoy more pleasures of motoring hitherto available only to the well to do.

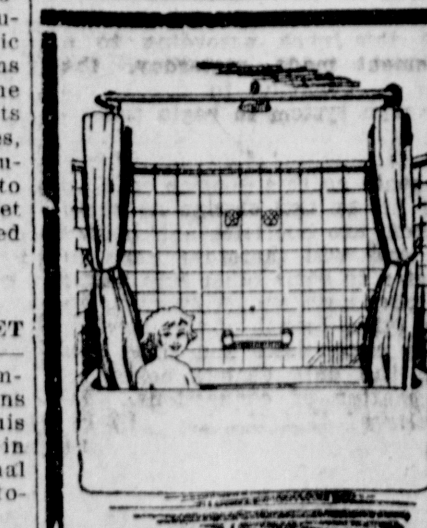

London's social season which has admittedly been one of its most brilliant, comes to a close with the Goodward racing week, commencing Tuesday, after which the society leaders, headed by the King and Queen will migrate to Cowes for the regatta. Afterward the wealthy members will split up some going to the French coast resorts and others to Scotland for the grouse shooting.

The Goodward race meet equals Ascot as a society function, except that there is no semi-state procession of royalty, and fashion decrees that the women's attire be of smart simplicity, in contrast with Ascot's multifarious creations.

The race course lies in the midst of some of England's most beautiful scenery, surrounded by historic estates the chief of which is the Duke of Richmond's at which the King and Queen stay, while the Duke of Northumberland and the Countess of March entertain other royalties in their nearby residences.

Arthur French was a visitor in the city from his home near Chappin, Saturday night.

Miss Lillian Weeks of Decatur, is a guest at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Crim on West College street.

FLOCKING TO PRAY AT MYSTIC SHRINE

BUDPAST.—A great wave of religious feeling is today sweeping over the peasantry of Hungary because of the alleged appearance of a picture of the Holy Virgin in the branches of a walnut tree in a little village in the county of Zemplen.

Thousands of peasants come daily from all parts of the country to kneel piously before the spot where the tree stood. For within the past three weeks, since the picture is said first to have appeared, the tree has been cut up and carried away by the pilgrims. Peasants are now digging deep into the ground to possess themselves of the last vestiges of the roots.

Near the trunk of a walnut tree near by a spring has appeared since the peasants began to frequent the locality. The water of this spring is now attracting other pilgrims, the lame, the halt and the blind, many of whom profess to have found relief.

EXAMINATIONS FOR MINE INSPECTORS

SPRINGFIELD.—(By the A. P.)—A state mine inspector who has not performed any services under his inspector's license for eight or ten years must take another examination before he can be appointed to a mine inspection position in Illinois, according to an opinion by Attorney General Brundage rendered at the request of Robert Medill, director of mines and minerals.

A person who has a state inspectors' certificate but has not performed any services under it for two years also must take an examination. One who is serving as an inspector is not required to take an examination every two years but at the end of a six year period, is required to do so.

JACKSONVILLE CHAUTAUQUA

Ten Day Program—New Talent Music and Entertainment Features—Noted Lecturers—Aug. 17-26.

Ten big days are promised chautauqua patrons by the 1923 program. The talent engaged is all new. On the opening evening of the chautauqua a company of New York artists will present the sparkling comedy success "Turn to the Right." In the cast of nine persons is Maurice Green, nephew of Ben Greet, of the famous Greet players organization and also Mrs. Louis James, wife of the leading well known actor, who plays the leading role. The company carries ten trunks and the sartorial splendor of the production as well as the electrical effects are striking.

On the opening night when this exhibiting drama full of the most delightful fun and pathos is presented, the tent will no doubt be taxed to its capacity.

Another attraction of note will be Vierra's Hawaiians. Albert and Joseph Vierra headed an organization that played in the Pineapple exhibit at the San Francisco exposition. Albert later went into chautauqua work and Joseph went into vaudeville.

Albert Vierra heads the organization that will appear in Jacksonville and the evening concert program is supplemented by special costumes and lighting effects. Vierra's Hawaiians will be one of the big drawing cards of the Chautauqua.

William Rainey Bennett, who lectures Tuesday afternoon, Aug. 21st, has been termed the "Billy Sunday" of the platform. He is a wonderful speaker with a splendid message that he delivers with great force and power. He will lecture on the subject "The Man Who Can." Make your plans to hear William Rainey Bennett.

Dr. Clinton H. Howard, the little giant of the platform, who speaks to more people in the course of a year than any other living American, with a single possible exception and Count Tolstoy will be the speakers on the first Sunday.

On the closing Sunday of the chautauqua Governor Charles Brough of Arkansas, the great Sam Small and Dr. Ira Landreth will be heard. Such a trio of speakers of prominence and a recognized platform success is a most unusual offering and it is doubtful if such a single day's program could be found outside of the parent New York chautauqua.

O. E. Bradfute of the National Farm Federation will come with a message that the farmer and agriculturist will find of much interest and Senator Irving L. Lenroot, of the nation's congress, will deliver an address that will claim rapid attention.

In the person of Senator Gore of Oklahoma the program committee has secured another publicist whose opinion and views are a challenge to his hearers everywhere.

Other musical numbers are the Baradell Light Opera company, Harry Ensemble organization, Neapolitan Serenaders and Apollo Concert company. With the big community band, the Elk's quartet, Coveny, Rena, Gray Wolf and Louis Williams, the 1923 chautauqua gives promise of being the best in years.

The programs are just off the press and copies may be secured at the newspaper offices, the banks or the public library. Get a program and then get a ticket for the big ten-day chautauqua—August 17 to 26.

NO BETTER BABIES CONFERENCE THIS YEAR

Curtailment of Health Department Appropriation Makes It Impossible to Have Better Babies Conference in Connection With County Fair This Year.

Announcement was made yesterday by Dr. R. V. Brokaw, county health officer, that there will be no Better Babies Conference at the county fair this year. The change in the plans of the Health Department came about because of the reduction in the appropriation for the department.

The fact that there will be no Better Babies Conference during the fair will be regretted by many. Already there have been numerous inquiries as to the plans for a conference this year and the indications were that there would have been even greater interest in this year's conference than there was last year.

The list of entries in last year's Better Babies conference was a large one and this feature proved to be one of the special features of the fair.

The reduction in the health department's appropriation makes it necessary to release one of the nurses, and with this curtailment in finances the department finds it impossible to arrange for the conference.

Miss Nicholas, who has been on duty as nurse for the past six weeks has been released and expects to take a similar position elsewhere within a short time. It is a matter of regret to the department that the reduction in finances made this curtailment necessary, as Miss Nicholas has been doing excellent work in her local position.

FIRE PROTECTION BUILDING REQUISITE

In practically all the building that is being done in mid-western cities and on middle west farms today, there is general insistence on better construction. Materials that are more permanent than those in general use a few years back are now in constant demand. One of the points to which special attention is being paid, on the farm as well as in the city, is that of making buildings fireproof.

Perhaps the easiest and most economical provision for fireproofing, the building contractors say, is to use gypsum in one form or another for the wall and ceiling material.

Gypsum is rock, that is mined and processed. It will not burn, ignite or transmit heat. Rooms that are walled and ceiled with it have a very high degree of fire resistance. Inasmuch as eighty-five per cent of the fires that destroy dwellings and household goods originate within the house, according to statistics furnished by the National Underwriters, it is of the greatest value to have the walls and ceilings of a material that will not communicate fire but will act as a barrier to the flames and contain them for an appreciable time within the room where the fire starts.

Because it has this natural fire-resistance quality, along with other advantages, there is an increasing call in this section for the fireproof wallboard known as sheetrock. This wallboard is made from gypsum. It comes all ready for use. Just nailed to the joists or studding, it makes standard, permanent, rigid, non-warping, an fireproof walls and ceilings. Great quantities of it are being used throughout the middle west today in homes, hotels, stores, warehouses and farm buildings.

BURLINGTON TO USE TELEGRAPH AGAIN

The telephone system which has so long been in use on this division of the Burlington for train orders will go into the discard this week according to a statement made yesterday, the work of changing to the Morse telegraph system to begin tomorrow.

It is rumored that a number of agents on this division will be hard hit by this change as some of them are not telegraph operators and will therefore have to transfer to some other line using the phone system, or transfer to some other branch of the service. The came poles and lines are used, the only change being in the matter of connections. It is believed that the key will be of greater satisfaction than the phone.

SEEKING PLANS TO DO AWAY WITH THE SCHOOL FIRE TRAP

State. Fire. Marshal Sends Letter to all County Superintendents of Schools Asking Inspections—Want all Schools Made Safe as Possible Before Fall Openings.

Springfield, July 28 (By the Associated Press)—Cooperation of school officials throughout the state to eliminate school fire traps is being sought by State Fire Marshal John G. Gamber. In a letter sent to all county superintendents of schools, Mr. Gamber has appealed to them to make the schools absolutely safe for the pupils by the time the fall term opens.

He has suggested that the superintendents inspect all school buildings in their districts during the summer
to see that they comply with the fire prevention laws.
He has instructed deputy fire marshals to give special attention to schools during the summer and to order shortcomings remedied wherever found.

Mr. Gamber referred to the fire tragedy several months ago in a country school at Cleveland, South Carolina, where 76 lives were lost.

"Must Illinois have a school house tragedy before we get rid of our school fire traps?" asked
the state fire marshal.

"Under the law, we require our children to go to school," he continued. "It is the duty of school officials to see that every reasonable safeguard is provided for them, as well as to provide for their education. Yet a national survey of schools indicated that 90 per cent of the schools are more or less dangerous and that a large percentage are fire-traps. Illinois has its share of these."

In the letter to county superintendents he said:
"On the night of May 17th,
seventy-six lives were snuffed out
in the rural schoolhouse tragedy
at Cleveland, South Carolina.
The story may be told briefly—
a condemned, two-story frame
building; a crowded assembly
hall on the second floor; one narrow stairway, no fire escape;
flimsy stage decorations, a hanging lamp dropping, then fire,
panic, death."

Superintendent's Duty
"As county superintendent, one
of your duties under the law is
to see that school buildings are
safe for the pupils who must attend them. This office will help

you in cases where you require help.
"The main requirements are
these:
"At least two good and convenient exits from every upper floor to the ground.
"Stairways and fire escapes to be in good repair.
"Entrance to fire escape to be through door at floor level, not through window.
"All exit doors to swing out
and be equipped with antipanic
bolts instead of ordinary locks
and bolts.
"Fire alarm system to be in working order and fire drills
practised systematically.
"Many schoolhouse fires start
in the basement from rubbish
or at the heating plant. Others start in the attic from defective
chimneys or poor electric wiring.
Others start from shingle roofs,
in closets and waste baskets.
The causes are all easily preventable."

LEAVES FOR VISIT
Mrs. Robert Mann of North
Church street has gone to Peoria,
where she will make an extended visit with relatives. She expects also to visit relatives at Springfield before returning to this city.

Superintendent's Duty
"As county superintendent, one
of your duties under the law is
to see that school buildings are
safe for the pupils who must attend them. This office will help

VETERAN BALLOONIST MUST BE ASSISTED

Can't Compete in International Races Without Outside Help Because of Heavy Expense.

ST. LOUIS, Mo.—By the A. P.
—Unless the people of St. Louis
come to his assistance, Captain H.
E. Honeywell, veteran balloonist,
may not compete in the International race starting from Brussels Belgium, September 23, because of the heavy expense involved in making the trip.

Captain Honeywell is eligible to participate in the International race, having finished second in the national elimination contest
which started from Indianapolis
July 4. He landed at Brocton, N.
Y., approximately 450 miles from the starting point.

"I may not go to Brussels this year—the expense is pretty heavy," he asserted. "I financed
my trip for the International race
last year, and as the flights boost
St. Louis, so I feel the people here may want to finance the next one."

Has World Wide Fame.

Captain Honeywell has gained
world wide renown as a balloonist.
During his flying life he has participated in twenty International races, having won first place six times, eight second places, three third places, two fourth and one fifth, besides beating all other contestants in the national race in which he flew, although not officially entered.

During his flying career, Capt.
Honeywell has encountered severe hardships, but last year's race, he said, eclipsed all others
for privation due to the inclement weather. Shortly after leaving Geneva, the starting point, his balloon was caught in a terrific rain storm which continued until he had passed over Beren, and later electric, thunder and heavy rainstorms were encountered, necessitating the maintenance of high altitudes. Honeywell and his aide, he said, suffered severely from want of oxygen, during the flight.

During the 1912 International
race which started from Stuttgart, Germany, Honeywell brought his balloon down in Russia where the peasants seized the bag, tore it up and made clothing out of it.

WILL MOVE TO
COLORADO SPRINGS

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Dewese, of North Church street, will leave
Monday morning for Colorado Springs, Colorado, where they plan to make their home. Mrs.
Dewese is a native of that place and Mr. Dewese has spent some time there before and likes the country very much. He is a son of Norman Dewese of this city.

BUMPER CROPS IN PIKE.

R. Shoemaker returned yesterday from a business trip to Pike county. That county had a rainfall of two inches on Friday. Corn near Baylis, Mr. Shoemaker said, is in fine condition and indications are that Pike county will have a bumper crop this year.

America's Greatest Need

Wellesley Hills, Mass., July 27.
—Roger W. Babson was today
asked why it is that he is not so optimistic on the general business situation when so many of the barometers of business indicate great prosperity. The optimistic forecast of prominent bankers, manufacturers, and financial advisors were called to Mr. Babson's attention, and he was frankly asked why a warning
was needed under present stable conditions. His reply was as follows:

"It is true that a number of the barometers of business are distinctly favorable at the present time. In order to be absolutely fair to everyone I even feel pains to enumerate these in a published statement only a month ago. The merchants are not over stocked; manufacturers
have not been speculating in raw materials; banks have good resources; check transactions are normal; railroad earnings are exceptionally good; and our great industries are apparently on a sound basis. My critics are correct in their statement that surface indications point to a wonderful business this fall, and perhaps two or three years of rising prices. I realize these rising figures as well as anyone and it is very hard for me to sound warning while so many are so optimistic and so contented."

"My reason for sounding a warning is two-fold. First, the Babsonchart of business conditions shows clearly that the period of readjustment is only about 60 per cent completed, and that further readjustment is inevitable. Second, that the attitude of the younger generation is distinctly harmful to the present situation. That is to say, my warning is based both on statistics and a study of the spiritual forces underlying business.
Of course, in reality, the spiritual or moral forces are by far the more important as they really determine what statistics and the chart will later show. The attitude of the people bears the same relation to the Babson-
chart and to statistics that the temperature bears to the thermometer, or as car loadings bear
to railroad earnings."

"I have offices in twenty-six
large cities and correspondents
in two hundred other cities. In every locality I find that the average man today is interested only in spending. People not only want to get rich quick but without working. People are buying recklessly without any thought about where the money is coming from with which to pay. Our young people seem to have the idea that dollar bills grow on trees and all they have to do is to pick them off. Almost no one wants to work. Very few want to produce. Earnest and industrious manual laborers, such as we had 25 years ago, are almost an unknown quantity. Everyone wants to ride in the car and no one wants to pull. Our percentage of producers is steadily decreasing and the percentage of middlemen is steadily increasing.

"Such conditions cannot continue forever. A dog may live on his tail for a while, but it cannot continue this process indefinitely. People may for a while get a living doing one another's
washing, but after the clothes
are worn out there will be no washing to do. A certain number of people can exist as middle-
men. Middlemen are a necessity and serve a valuable economic function, but America's greatest need is producers, especially men
and women filled with the desire to produce and with the joy of production. America's great need is a revival of the joy of work.
America's great need is a revival of the desire to serve. America's great need is a revival of the habit of saving."

"I am not fearful for America
in the long run; but rather I am
a great optimist on this country
and the people of this country.
My love of America causes me to issue the warning that the attitude of the average young person today is not right toward his or her work. A doctor is not friendly to his patient if he blindly shuts his eyes to his patient's disease. One cannot be a true friend of the United States
by blindly shutting his eyes to the wrong attitude of the new generation toward industry, service and thrift. It is this wrong attitude which has already caused business—as indicated by the Babsonchart—to decline. The Babson chart stands today at three percent below normal compared with one per cent below normal
at the beginning of the year."

CHILD WELFARE EFFORTS RENEWED

Increased Delinquency Leads to Renewed Efforts.

Springfield, July 28.—(By The Associated Press)—Increased delinquency among girls has led the state division of child welfare to renewed efforts to extend its activities to every community
of the state, according to Roy James Battis, superintendent of the division, which is under the state department of public welfare. The department, he said,
is ready to assist every community to protect its children.

Quoting Judge Victor P. Arnold of the Chicago juvenile court, who declared that delinquency among girls had increased from 22 to 30 per cent in one year, Mr. Battis said this delinquency was the result of two conditions, physical weakness and the idle hour.

"The department of public welfare by way of the various
state institutions," he continued,
amply provides for these who come under their care. But what of the thousands outside who are going through the years of adolescence? The hundred and one agencies provided for the boy
to develop into strong and vigorous citizens are bringing results. Let us have the hundred and one agencies for developing our girls. The idle hour is a big problem. How are the girls in your community spending theirs?
The department is ready and anxious to assist every community
to secure better babies, better
children, happier mothers and fathers and more healthy communities, and co-operation spells success."

To make its work more effective, the child welfare division is fostering a movement to extend the county probation system into southern Illinois which does not have this system. A conference of probation officers was held here recently to discuss this matter with Mr. Battis.

SELF DETERMINATION FOR FOREIGN CHURCH

Giving of Money no Excuse
for Attempt to Dictate
the Policy of the Recipient.

STOCKHOLM.—Sordid is the argument that since the churches
in Europe and America give money they should determine the policies of churches on the foreign field, Dr. James H. Franklin, foreign secretary of the American Baptist Foreign Mission society,
told the Baptist World Alliance
today. "They may determine their own policies or recall their missionaries, but no board in the West is wise enough to dictate to the churches of the East," he said.

Men with a message are needed
as missionaries, Dr. Franklin asserted. They must be the best products of our western life, he said, as this is "no hour for small souls in the mission field."

Dr. Franklin paid tribute to the pioneers in the mission field.
Today we count them among our heroes, he said, but sometimes they were heroes in the eyes of many of their own generation.

Our greatest need today is not money nor more missionaries, the speaker stated, but "the sacrificial spirit is the need of the hour
and we of the West cannot impart it to others except as we may have acquired it for ourselves. Facing the future our greatest need is for more of the spirit of the Cross of Calvary."

"At such an hour as this," Dr.
Franklin continued, "the Bat-
tists of the world enjoy an extraordinary opportunity for service," and in conclusion he stated: "The denomination which can prove most surely its purpose to serve disinterestedly is the one of which, in time, it will be inquired: 'In whose name and
by what power have ye done
these things?'"

HEAVY RAILS LAID

The Chicago & Alton are laying ninety pound rails between Jacksonville and Woodson in place of the eighty pound rails that were used. This additional weight makes a decided improvement in the matter of comfort to passengers, as there is not so much vibration with the heavier rails.
The work train is now picking up the old rails and storing away
all that are in good shape for re-

NO WORLD PEACE UNTIL GOSPEL IS PREACHED TO ALL

Famous Baptist Divine States Views Before
World Alliance in Stockholm—Nations
Following Teachings of the Nazarene
Seen as Remedy for World Ills.

(By The Associated Press)

Stockholm, July 29.—Although favoring the League of Nations as a vital step in the prevention of war, that day of universal peace dreamed of by the Bible prophets will not come until the gospel of Jesus Christ has been preached to all the world and men have been made new creatures through its regenerating power, Dr. George W. Truett of Dallas, Texas, declared in the course of the official congress sermon which he delivered. Dr. Truett
is considered one of the foremost pulpit orators of the Baptist faith.

After reciting the troublous times through which the world has passed since the last previous session of the Alliance was held in Philadelphia in 1911, and how that statesmen, economists and philosophers had sought in vain to find a solution of the world's difficulties, Dr.
Truett said the Baptists had an adequate message for mankind at this hour in the Gospel of Christ and declared that if the Baptists and other Christians of the world would but devote their energies and resources to the propagation of the gospel the time would soon come when the name of Christ would be proclaimed in every dialect on the globe.

Dr. Truett said in part:
"We long for enduring peace
and for wars to cease until the ends of the earth. It is most inspiring to think of that prophetic
day when men shall beat their swords into plowshares and their spears into pruning hooks, and when nation shall not lift up sword against nation, neither
shall they learn war any more.
But when did the prophet say
such halcyon day would come?
Not when empires are crushed
on the battlefield, but when all nations shall walk in God's paths.
The most vital matter in the world therefore is for Christ's friends to lay their every power
under tribute to preach Christ's gospel to every creature and to call all nations to walk in his paths. Our work shall never be done until at the name of Jesus
every knee shall bow and every tongue confess that He is Lord
to the glory of God the Father.
We must rest not and halt not until we write His name large across the sky of the whole world,
and make his voice the deep undertone of all human life, and supply His principles to the solution of every problem in the world. When will Pentecost be repeated? It will be repeated
when Christ's people undertake Pentecostal tasks in the old time
Pentecost power."

The Way of the Cross.
"We need no new gospel to win
the world. The way of the cross is ever the way of triumph both
for Christ and for His people.
The tragedy of the world is not
poor wages, nor bad legislature, nor ignorance, nor poverty. The supreme tragedy of the world is
sin. There is only one adequate remedy for sin and that remedy
is found in the cross of Christ.
That cross is the sign manual in the redemption of mankind. It is the central fact toward which all previous history converges and
all subsequent history diverges,
with its crimson tide forever. All the light of sacred story gathers

about that cross. Redemption is there and not elsewhere. The salvation of men is not to be found in creeds and ceremonies and rituals and sacraments and forms of righteousness which men perform
but it is to be found in Christ, the one mediator between God and
man. Let Christianity be reduced to a mere ethic and you would immediately fling away its redeeming power. All such gospels are utterly bankrupt of the power of necessity to regenerate
and redeem a sinful world."

Hope of the World.
"The one hope of the world lies in the reign of Christ. There are many occasions of division and rivalry among the nations. We do not disparage the work of the diplomats and statesmen, but the redemption of the world does not lie in that direction. The world's hope lies in the savior-hood and lordship of Christ. He is not going to divide the world
with Mohammedanism and Buddhism and Confucianism or any other ism that opposes Christ.
His dominion shall extend over
every acre of the earth."

"The crowning glory of Christ's gospel is that it may be fully tested and proved in the crucible
of human experience. Christ submits himself to the scientific test of demonstration by experiment. Men may call on Mohammed or Confucius or Buddha and they will get no answer. Let them call upon Christ and they will be forgiven of sin and clothed with moral re-enforcement for
the battles and burdens of life.
Destructive critics can not finally shake our confidence in the Bible, because in that God-given book we find revealed our own experience. It is God's mirror reflecting the spiritual image of every image of every one who looks into it."

"With our more than eleven million Baptists we may quickly
fill the whole earth with the knowledge of Christ if we will only be faithful to him. The world can be saved only by the Gospel of Christ. Society is to be transformed by transforming its individual units. It is not a new system of government that mankind needs, nor a new scheme for the distribution of wealth nor a new social organization. It is the new birth men need, and then all secondary needs will follow in proper perspective and proportion.

New Demands Made.

"Stupendous days and demands now confront us. While we tread the path of the cross, abiding all selfish ease and giving our best for Him. It is an hour for our dedication as preachers to the faithful preaching of this dynamic and divine Gospel. It is an hour when parents should bring their children with delight and joyfully give them to His service. It is an hour when every talent of learning for the winning of the world to Christ. The open door of the ages is before us. The whole world invites and challenges immediate occupation for Christ. Facilities a thousand fold multiplied match the thousand fold opportunities. Autocracy must go, both in church and in state. Sacramentalism and sacerdotalism must likewise go—they are the grave clothes of a moribund and decadent faith. The day of the inalienable rights and worth of the individual is everywhere coming to the fore. Christ's people are to cast up the highway for the spread of his gospel everywhere. If they will only be true to their privileges and resources, the name of Jesus will soon be echoed in every dialect under heaven."

MAKE NEW MIDWAY AT FAIR GROUNDS

The Midway at the county fair grounds is being laid out on a new plan. This is being done to afford more space for the riding devices and for the movement of the people among the various attractions.

At the next meeting of the executive board of the Fair Association, the matter of erecting sheds for the housing of the hog exhibit will be taken up. It is believed that permanent sheds can be built in less space than the three large tents would occupy. The sheds would house more hogs and could be erected practically at the same cost as tents could be rented. To take care of the porkers requires three tents each 70 by 110 feet in dimensions.

EFFORT PUT FORTH TO PUT THE U. S. INTO WORLD COURT

Meetings to Be Held Throughout the Country

WASHINGTON July 27.—Thirty-five organizations will begin a two days' campaign over the country tomorrow in favor of American participation in the world court, acting under the auspices of the National Council for Prevention of War.

The occasion will be the ninth anniversary of the outbreak of the World War, and, according to sponsors of the movement, in 18 other nations demonstrations for peace will be held. Although the activities in the United States will be part of an international movement for "No More War," Frederick J. Libby, executive secretary of the National Council for Prevention of War, said leaders in America had adopted the slogan "Law—Not War," to give opportunity to many cities not on President Harding's itinerary to express their opinion on the World Court proposal.

"The president's tour," Mr. Libby said, "has convinced leaders in the movement for closer international amity that the people want some action on the World Court during the coming session of congress, and do not want the question put over until after the 1924 election, or so burdened with amendments that debate on the subject will be prolonged and a definite conclusion as to America's position postponed perhaps several years."

To Hold Meetings
According to the plans announced demonstrations will be held in cities of every state, taking the form of street speeches, luncheons, Sunday school and church addresses on the subject, outdoor meetings, house-to-house canvasses, poster displays and theatrical exhibits.

The organizations participating represent, Mr. Libby said, a membership of ten million. They include civic societies, women's clubs, farmers associations and welfare organizations.

The executive board of the National Council for the Prevention of War includes John Grier Hibben, president of Princeton University; A. Lawrence Lowell, president of Harvard University; William Allen White, Kansas editor; Jane Addams of Hull House, Carrie Chapman Catt, suffrage leader; Mrs. Louis D. Brandeis, wife of Justice Brandeis; Father John A. Ryan of the National Catholic Welfare Council; James R. Howard, former president of the American Farm Bureau Federation; Will Irwin, writer; Maud Wood Park, president of the National Council of Women Voters; Mrs. J. Borden Harriman and Mrs. Gifford Pinchot, wife of the governor of Pennsylvania.

REL ESTATE BOOM HITS JAP RESORT

Tokio—The demand for homes at the various seaside and mountain resorts of Japan made famous by foreigners is ever on the increase, and those foreigners who invested wisely are reaping their harvest. Prices have gone up ten fold within the last few years and there seems no tendency to fall. At Karuzawa, the mountain resort to which missionaries from all over the Far East flock in summer, and where the Prince Regent will spend part of this season, very high prices are being paid for houses and land. The same is true at Kamakura, Zushi and Hayama, the seaside resorts, formerly almost entirely foreign which have been invaded by the Japanese.

The property which foreigners are selling is held by them on 999 years leases, or through virtue of their being members of Japanese land companies such as were organized by the different missionary bodies.

MAN CARRYING JUG OF BOOZE ARRESTED

David Sparks was arrested Friday in Franklin, where he was found on the streets in an intoxicated condition. He was carrying a half gallon jug of mule whiskey, which was confiscated. The arrest was ordered by Mayor Whelan of Franklin, who notified the sheriff's office to come and get the prisoner.

Deputies Howard Burch and Edger Jones went to Franklin and brought Sparks to this city, where he was lodged in the county jail. Ruby Lair, who was arrested recently in Cass county on a federal warrant charging illegal manufacture of liquor, has a court record in this county. He was arrested at Meredosia on charges of maintaining a still, and was confined for six months in the county jail. (This first offense will go against him, no doubt, in the trial in the federal court, and it is expected that he will fare none too easy for his crimes.

FARM BUREAU NEWS

Wheat facts.—In December 1922, the U. S. Department of Agriculture estimated we would produce 862,000,000 bushels of wheat. In July, this department estimated the production at 821,000,000 bushels. The average from 1917-21, was 835,000,000 bushels. In reality the production this year promises to be below the five year average. The acreage this year is slightly more than five per cent less than last year's acreage. In the face of these facts we sincerely question whether we do have an over production. If the farmers will actually do teamwork and feed 200,000,000 bushels of wheat this year as Secretary Wallace advises, we ought to make it extremely unpleasant for those who are depressing the price. However, if one farmer expects the other fellow to do the holding and feeding we shall not get anywhere.

High Custodian of Governor's Razors

Springfield. (By The Associated Press)—For a little less than a quarter of a century Emmet E. Perkins has been shaving Illinois governors.

Perkins doubles as barber and messenger to the governor. On the payroll he appears officially as executive messenger, and in this position he has a wide public acquaintance. His less known but more intimate service to the governors of the state has been as high keeper of the gubernatorial razor and custodian of the official whiskers.

Is Jacksonville Man Mr. Perkins came to the governor's office from Jacksonville with Governor Richard Yates on May 23, 1901, and since then has served under Yates, Deneen, Dunne, Lowden and Small.

As the second oldest colored employee at the State House in point of service, Perkins has had the distinction of having ushered more visitors into the presence of the chief executive than any other man. As one sees Perkins sitting at his desk in the reception room just outside of the governor's office, keeping impatient callers quite, one little suspects that there is a man who has given five governors more close shaves than all the opposition parties combined.

Just off the governor's private office is a small room all lined with white enamel. Here's where Perkins has his barber chair and here is where he does his most effective work.

The Easiest to Shave Governor's whiskers, according to Perkins, are not always so easy to remove. Mr. Yates had one of the easiest faces to shave because his beard was fine, Perkins confides. Perkins always shaved Governor Lowden at the executive mansion, calling there each morning promptly at 15 minutes to nine. This was a punctuality Mr. Lowden always insisted on.

The Governor's messenger and barber is also clipper of the changes and recorder of the clippings. To date during Governor Small's administration, he has filed 1 of these books, the present governor having received more publicity than any other governor, according to Perkins records. He filed 250 of these books in Deneen's two terms and 175 for Lowden. The books have 168 pages each.

Perkins was born in Louisiana Mo. He is 51 years old.

DRAFT ANIMALS ARE AT BEST WHEN FED GOOD LEGUME HAYS

University Gives Results of Experiments Recently Made

URBANA, Ill., July 29.—University of Illinois experimental work with colts, draft horses, and mules at farm work has shown that the best results are obtained when legume hays of good quality make up one-half to two-thirds of the total amount of roughage fed, according to J. L. Edmonds, professor of horse husbandry at the university. "Carbonaceous roughages, such as timothy and prairie hays, oats straw, and corn stover may be used satisfactorily to make up the balance of the ration," he says. "Although economy in horse feeding should be practiced throughout the year, lower costs should not be secured at the expense of efficiency. Each spring many farm horses are so thin and unthrifty that they cannot render satisfactory service when needed. It is false economy to starve a horse thru the winter because he is a money loser when put to work. Liberal feeding wisely done will hit the bull's eye every time."

Full and Winter Foods "During the late fall and winter months, much use may be made of oats straw and well-cured corn stover; these foods are good for the horse and cheapen the rations," added Professor Edmonds. "During the remainder of the year, mixed clover and timothy hay or alfalfa and timothy may be fed. For horse food, alfalfa should not be cut too soon, as very leafy, fine-stemmed, pea green hay is inclined to be watery; the stemmy, first cutting alfalfa hay is preferable."

"It is always a good rule to feed hay to an empty manger, i. e., to insist that everything which is edible be cleaned up. Work horses do better when approximately one-half of the hay is fed at night and the balance divided between the morning and noon feeds. Idle horses require very little grain when good roughage is fed in abundance. Bulky rations are the best for the idle horse. Feed only enough to maintain proper conditions. Hard-worked horses, when idle, should have their grain ration cut in half, and strict adherence to this practice would save much money for team owners."

The Best Single Grain "Oats is the best single grain but it is not always available and sometimes the price makes its use prohibitive. Corn is a great source of energy and may satisfactorily make up part of the grain ration of most work horses. Combinations of corn, bran, and oil meal are good substitutes for oats when fed with timothy and prairie hay. When legume hays constitute an important part of the roughage, corn may be used to make up a considerable part of the grain ration. Corn and timothy hays do not make a very good ration for the work horse in either winter or summer, especially in summer. Bran is the most useful mill feed for horses and is used when no legumes are fed. Once or twice a week, give a bran mash, which should be warm during cold weather, instead of the regular evening feed of grain. It is usually better to feed grain in three equal feeds per day."

PROBATION NEEDS RECEIVE ATTENTION

SPRINGFIELD, July 29.—A probation officer who made clothes for a girl in order to keep the girl in school and out of trouble, was brought to the attention of a conference of probation officers here, by Roy James Battis, superintendent of the state division of child welfare.

The conference was called to consider extension of probation work in southern Illinois counties which do not have probation officers.

"Reports come to us daily," said Mr. Battis, "lauding the efforts of the probation officer in keeping boys and girls out of these institutions thru the personal attention given both the children and the home."

"Recently our attention was called to a probation officer who had provided for a wayward girl thru the seventh and eighth grades and four years of high school, even to the extent of putting in idle moments in making the girl's clothing in order to keep her in the straight and narrow path and preserve her for herself and the community."

WHO IS GETTING THE FARMER'S MONEY?

Referring to the Farmer-Labor movement in the West which recently resulted in the election of Magnus Johnson to the United States senate from Minnesota, the Railway Age says in an editorial in its current issue:

"A feature of this radical Farmer-Labor movement which tends to rob it of its terror is that it obviously contains within itself the seeds of its own destruction. It is in an important respect one of the most paradoxical political and economic movements ever carried on in this country. The wheat farmer could prosper with the price of wheat at $1.00 a bushel if he did not have to pay relatively so much more than before the war for almost everything he has to buy. Now, most of the money he is paying out in increased railway rates and increased prices is going to the labor employed in the railroad and various industries.

"The situation with respect to railway rates is typical. The total earnings of the railways in 1922 were $1,600,000,000 more than in 1917. On the other hand, the net operating income which was earned and which was available for paying interest and dividends was almost $200,000,000 less in 1922 than in 1917. These figures show that the owners of railway securities did not get the money derived by the railways from increased rates. Where, then, did the increased earnings of the railways go?

"The railways paid $942,000,000 more in wages to their own employees in 1922 than in 1917. They paid $170,000,000 more for fuel. Most of this went to the coal miners in the form of increased wages. They paid about $500,000,000 more for materials and supplies used in operation and maintenance. Most of this went to the employees of manufacturing concerns in increased wages. They paid $91,000,000 more taxes in 1922 than in 1917. These facts show that the owners of railway securities did not get any of the increased earnings of the railways, but that, directly and indirectly, they were all, and more, than all, taken by their own employees, by labor in other industries, and by the tax-gatherer.

"The wages now being paid in all the large organized industries of the country may or may not be justifiable, but the incontrovertible facts are that these wages are much higher than they were before the war, and that they were absorbing most of the money which the western farmer is paying to the railways and other industries in the form of railway rates and prices exceeding those that prevailed before the war. The paradox in the Farmer-Labor political movement is that it is a result of a combination of the western farmers with those who are getting most of the money that the farmer complains he is losing.

"Sooner or later the parties to this combination must awaken to a realization of the fact that their aims are incompatible. The western farmer wants either an increase in the prices of the things he produces or a reduction in the prices of the things he must buy. Labor in the various industries desires to maintain its present standard of living. But the farmer cannot get transportation, clothing, building materials and other services and commodities at lower prices if present wages are to be maintained; and labor cannot maintain its present standard of living if the prices of farm products are to be increased without any corresponding advance in wages.

"The western farmers are turning to congressional legislation for a remedy of their situation. Will organized labor favor legislation that will cause the government to subsidize the production of wheat at $1.75 a bushel and put up the price of bread? Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, recently volunteered to the farmers the advice that they should not seek legislative remedies. 'Let me assure you, out of a long and active experience,' he said in an open address to the National Wheat Conference at Chicago, 'that there is no great magic in a law.' This indicates that Mr. Gompers and the members of his organization will not endorse over a proposal for legislation that would increase their cost of living. They apparently understand the relationship between their situation and that of the farmers better than the farmers do. If, however, labor will not help the radical farmers to get legislation to increase the price of wheat, how long will it be before these farmers will decide that labor is 'double-crossing' them, and begin to entertain proposals for legislation to bring down the wages of labor? The fact is, the demand of the western farmers for reductions of freight rates is, in effect, a demand for the reduction of wages on the railways and in other industries, because so long as the present wages prevail no reduction of rates that would really help the farmer will be practicable.

"Messrs. LaFollette of Wisconsin, Brookhart of Iowa, Shipstead and Johnson of Minnesota, and other western radicals have won their recent political triumphs because by attacking the railroads and other large industrial and financial concerns they have succeeded in getting both the radical farmers and working men in their states to vote for them. When, however, they have to undertake the practical task of framing legislation in the interest of both the farmer, whose wheat is bringing only one dollar a bushel in the large markets, and the working man, who is receiving wages per hour or per day from two to even four and five times as high as he received before the war, they will find it impossible to frame constitutional legislation which will satisfy both these classes; and on that rock the Farmer-Labor movement will split."

The New Studebaker Special-Six Touring Car

Before you buy any car, see the STUDEBAKER 1924 MODELS

Studebaker presents its complete line of 1924 models, announced a week ago, with the conviction that they will increase the prestige of the name Studebaker which, for 71 years, has stood for the best in transportation, quality and value of product.

Into these 1924 cars are built every proved feature in design that makes for the comfort, convenience and safety of passengers, and many refinements that further enhance the value of a line of cars already highly perfected.

It is common knowledge in the steel industry that Studebaker uses only the highest grades of the finest steels. And the same is true of the electrical equipment, instruments, bearings, batteries, upholstery, finishing paints, tires and accessories used in Studebaker cars.

It is equally well known that Studebaker, with $90,000,000 of actual net assets, including $45,000,000 of plant facilities, is unsurpassed in ability and resources to manufacture economically and give maximum intrinsic value for a given price.

Produced under these favorable conditions, the 1924 Studebakers are distinctly the finest cars and greatest values Studebaker ever offered.

These are not careless statements. They are facts that reflect the honesty and integrity of the manufacturer and its product just as they do the truth of Studebaker advertising.

The public has placed its confidence in Studebaker by accepting these facts, supported by the performance of Studebaker cars in owners' use. That's why Studebaker sales for the past six years have increased progressively each year and sales for the first six months of 1923 of 81,880 cars broke all six months' records.

Studebaker never cheapens quality to meet competition. The name Studebaker stands for satisfaction and service.

MORE BOYS WANTED

AT CAMP ROOSEVELT

Work Among American Boys
Showing Splendid Results

CAMP ROOSEVELT, Ind., July 29.—There are hundreds of first class, all around American boys at Camp Roosevelt now and room for plenty of more, according to Angus S. Hibbard, of Chicago, chairman of the camp, who has been spending several weeks here this summer. Chairman Hibbard states that the camp now has an even more inspiring and enthusiastic group that has ever before been there.

"The older boys are getting all kinds of athletics, horsemanship, hikes and similar features," says Mr. Hibbard. "This year the ages run as low as 10 years in the Junior camp, where about 200 boys are occupied from morning until night in the most interesting kinds of outdoor recreations, which vary from picking black-berries to taking active part in the parade of the camp."

Mr. Hibbard calls attention to the second period at the camp which opens next Monday, July 30 and states that there is plenty of room for more boys at the camp. It costs $10 a week and $2 enrollment fee and any boy from anywhere who can pass muster as a real American boy can get in by reporting at Rolling Prairie, Ind., on July 30, 31 or as late as August 1.

Hundreds of parents are testifying to the improvement in their boys in the first period and are enrolling them for the remainder of the summer, Mr. Hibbard states.

WHO KNOWS WHEREABOUTS OF WILLIAM O. WADE?
Mention was recently made of the fact that a letter addressed to Burrell Havens, and apparently containing a state bonus check remained uncalled for. Mr. Havens has now been located in Pittsfield and his check will be forwarded to him.

Another similar letter addressed to William O. Wade, 490 East Lafayette avenue now remains uncalled for and any one knowing of his present location will confer a favor by notifying Reaugh Jennings at the office of the circuit clerk.

WANTED!

Experienced sales ladies—
address 100, care Journal.

MRS. HARNEY HURT
Mrs. G. H. Harney, 403 West College avenue, was painfully injured at her home Saturday morning when she caught her heel on one of the steps leading to the basement, causing her to be thrown with great force and bruising her head severely. Two cuts were sustained above her left eye, in which stitches had to be taken by Drs. Bradley and King, who were called on the case. Mrs. Harney was resting very easy Saturday evening.

Mrs. Frank McDermott traveled to the county seat from Concord yesterday afternoon.

PRODUCE MARKET.

The market on live poultry reacted on Monday to 26 cents per fowl, at which price it has carried thru the week.
Due to large storage holdings
of poultry, the dressed poultry
market did not respond to the advance in prices prevailing for live fowl. Receipts are generally heavier than a year ago.

There has been a noticeable increase in the movement of live
broilers, especially in Kansas,
Missouri and Oklahoma, undoubtedly due to the fact that chickens are hatched in these sections
earlier than in the states farther
north or east.

Receipts of eggs were a little lighter, but the recent advance
in the market has caused withdrawals of eggs from storage, so
there are about as many eggs coming out as going in. This tendency to withdraw eggs from storage on an advance in the market will probably check any materially higher price in the immediate future.

The week under review has shown a decrease in the make of butter, but this is generally to be expected toward the end of July.
Butterfat prices are higher than a year ago, so there is every incentive to continue production on a large scale.

Today the Chicago market on Standards is 40 cents as compared with 37½ cents a week ago and 32½ cents a year ago.

Arrivals of foreign butter in New York are considerably lighter than for the past few weeks.
